KING PUMA

Fernando Ureña

Spain

2025

Documentary/ (Subtitled in English) / 91 min

Synopsis

This is the story of the visionary who invented sports marketing: Hans Henningsen. In 1970, he proposed a groundbreaking advertising move to Pelé during the Mexico World Cup—delaying kickoff so Pelé could tie his boots, allowing cameras to capture the moment and showcase the brand to millions worldwide. This iconic scene changed football forever, paving the way for stars like Diego Maradona and many others to turn their boots into powerful advertising platforms of immense value.

NOW, I WIN

Paolo Geremi & Simone Paragnani
Italy

2023

Documentary / Italian (Subtitled in English) / 91 min

Synopsis

Marcello Lippi is portrayed as a brilliant yet polarizing figure, widely regarded as one of the greatest football managers in history. From humble beginnings as the son of a dock worker and a player who never won major titles, he rose to achieve extraordinary success as a coach, winning top domestic and international competitions and leading Italy to World Cup glory in 2006. The film reveals both his relentless drive to win and the personal journey behind his legendary career.

THE MATCH THAT NOT ALL CLUBS WANT TO PLAY

Felipe Bertazzo Tobar & Daniel Uribe
United States

2024

Documentary/ (Subtitled in English) / 37 min

Synopsis

This documentary explores how European football clubs confront—or avoid—their most complex historical narratives. Through two case studies in Spain and Germany, it examines Real Madrid and its silence during the Spanish Civil War, as well as FC St. Pauli and its relationship with its past during the Nazi regime. Through interviews with historians, journalists, and fans, the film reveals how political, cultural, and commercial interests shape the stories clubs choose to tell—or conceal.
